Control of the Child Care Environment

AYS programs are often located in the gym or cafeteria. During a program, a wide variety of activities are concurrently offered. Often, this is difficult for a child with ADD or ADHD. Please list any ideas/suggestions that would help the AYS staff to care for and communicate with your child in this type of a setting.

Social/Family

All children have difficulty in peer interactions at times. Describe the types of difficulties your child experiences. Please offer ideas/suggestions on how the AYS staff might help your child through these times. _____

Is there any information regarding your family's situation, as it relates to your child's behavior, that would be helpful in the care of your child i.e. recent change in marital status, living situation, job change/loss, death of a loved one, etc.? _____

Therapies

If your child receives any types of therapy i.e. psychological, reading, speech, etc. please describe when therapy began and how often therapy is given. Are there goals or techniques used in therapy that the AYS staff would find helpful in caring for your child?
